CONTROVERSY OVER SECRET TREATIES IS WAXING WARM

From A... U. S. ...

[illegible] ... OPERATION DESPERATE

(United Press.)

TRIESTE, Dec. 25.—The city of Fiume is completely isolated today as the result of the conflict between Gabrielle d'Annunzio and the Italian government over the treaty of Rapallo. All roads and paths to Fiume were closed and heavily guarded by troops. The heights were guarded by Carabiniers, and Royal guards formed a cordon about the city, completing the work of isolation of the city. Meanwhile the food situation in Fiume is believed to be desperate.

Troops Are Divided.

(United Press.)

ROME, Dec. 25.—Followers of d'Annunzio, who hold Fiume against the Italian troops, are divided on whether to continue resistance, according to dispatches today. The population still hopes that bloodshed will be averted. Several clashes occurred between the poet's forces and Italian regulars. The casualties are few. Many of d'Annunzio's legionnaires favor only passive resistance, while others are faithful to d'Annunzio and are determined to fight.

ILL-HEALTH CAUSES OBREGON TO CEASE ALL PUBLIC DUTIES

(International News Service.)

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 25.—Ill-health has forced President Obregon to withdraw from all public duties. The nature of his illness is not announced.

Former President Huerta will soon leave for the United States on a financial mission.

NATION SAFE AND SOUND SAY MANY GREAT FINANCIERS

(United Press.)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 25.—"The nation is safe financially. It will weather storms of the future. It is better able to care for itself than any other nation on the globe. The United States is the greatest financial and economic country in the world now and will continue to wield that power far into the coming years." This was the Christmas message to the country today from Secretary of the Treasury Houston, Governor Harding of the Federal Reserve Board, Comptroller of Currency Williams and other financiers. They expressed the belief the slump over the country will soon begin to advance in business lines.

ENFORCEMENT OFFICER IS BELIEVED MURDERED NEAR BAYONNE, N. J.

(United Press.)

NEW YORK, Dec. 25.—Carefully planned murder or mysterious suicide were theories the police worked on today in the investigation of the death of J. F. McGuinness, the prohibition enforcement agent, found with a bullet in his head along the beach near Bayonne, N. J., last yesterday. Mrs. McGuinness, wife of the dead man, said her husband had no reason to take his life. She believed he was murdered. He had purchased many Christmas presents and made preparations for celebrating Christmas at his home.

DIMMING MOONSHINE

(Newspaper Enterprise Association.)

LEXINGTON, Ky., Dec. 25—Count 15 new converts to prohibition.

They're Kentucky moonshiners too.

But they're in jail here for violating the liquor laws.

They've pomised to "take the pledge" New Year.

The first automobile factory in Norway has just been completed.

[illegible] ... Osborne ... verified his belief that it was the man whom he knew, and the man recognized Osborne. Calling Deputy Sheriff Will Young of Daytona Beach, Osborne informed Young that the man was Russell, wanted in Orlando on an old charge of forgery.

Osborne and Young approached the man, informed him that he was wanted on a charge of forgery, and that he was under arrest. The man neither denied or acknowledged the charge, but plead that his wife was in the hotel and that he would like to go to her, give her some excuse for his absence and would return. He was allowed to go upstairs, and the stairways were guarded. When the man did not return after some minutes, Mr. Bostwick, the proprietor of the hotel, together with Young and Osborne, went to his room to find that the man had disappeared. They made a complete search of the hotel without success.

It is the belief of the police that Russell escaped down the fire escape of the hotel while they were searching for him and that he made his getaway from the beach. His car, which was standing in front of the hotel at the time, was watched all day, and last evening in hopes that he would attempt to secure it, but at a late hour last evening no one had come to claim it.

Russell, some three years ago, is reported to have fleeced a tourist in a wiretapping game in Daytona, and among the funds which he took were $700 in A. B. C. checks, unsigned, which he is alleged to have signed himself and cashed in Orlando. A warrant was issued for him, but he was never caught.

Two years ago he secured another "sucker" in his meshes at New Smyrna and had a deal all framed on a man by the name of Joe Surprise of Connecticut. Surprise was to go to his northern home and secure $3,000, which he had there and which he was ready to hand over to Russell and his confederates, only that, by this time Russell had changed his name to Mason. While Surprise was taking the train at Daytona for the North, Osborne, ever on the alert, tipped him off as to his associate and Surprise backed out, while Mason caught a train South, and has been a scarce article about this vicinity since.

It is believed that Russell, or Mason, or whatever name he goes under this year, has not been able so far to work his game at the beach, as several officers have been keeping an eye on him and his movements, but it is known that he is one member of the gang which is planning big operations here under the nose of Sheriff Morris and his deputies this winter.

The narrow sweak which he had Christmas day may rid Daytona and vicinity of this one man and may serve as a warning to others that life will be made miserable for wiretappers hereabouts, if officers of the law sworn to run wiretappers out, will do there duty.

Deputy Sheriff Young is determined to "get" his man if he shows up at the Beach again, and any others whom he knows to be praying on the public with crooked deals.

According to the Retail Dry Goods Association, the cost of delivering retail packages averages 12 cents a package.

[illegible] Suggestion Is Meeting With Senate Favor

(International News Service.)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 25.—Republican leaders of Congress regard favorably the proposal of Senator McKellar, Democrat of Tennessee, that the one billion, two hundred million dollars interest due the American government on loans made to foreign nations be employed to compensate American soldiers for service in the World War. McKellar is insisting on immediate action to compel Great Britain and other European powers associated with the United States in the war to pay at least part interest due on approximately ten billion dollars loaned them by this country.

McKellar has a resolution pending in the Senate requiring the secretary of the treasury to fund into interest bearing bonds the interests as soon as it can be collected and deliver these bonds to American service men.

"If this is done it would relieve the treasury of an immense burden which would be placed on it if the Senate were to pass the House bill for soldiers' bonus and the president approves it," McKellar said. "It would be only fair that at least a part of the money due us from foreign governments should be paid to the American soldiers who helped to fight for and protect those governments in the war.

"Insidious propaganda exists for cancellation to us of those foreign governments because we fought side by side with them. Congress should not permit itself to be influenced by such propaganda. It is said that we ought to cancel Great Britain's debt because of the vast expense war imposed on that nation, that we ought to wipe the four and a quarter billion dollars Great Britain owes us off the slate, because she carried our financial burden of the war before we entered it.

"Great Britain did everything possible to get us into war. She was intensely desirous of having our aid. Then she charged us a very large price for our participation in the war and wanted to charge us an even larger price than we were willing to pay for transportation of our soldiers overseas in her vessels.

"She charged us for every ton of freight carried by her for maintenance of our armies. She treated us in a business way, and her ship owners made enormous profits out of our participation in the war. When our troops landed in England we paid for land and camps they occupied. As soon as the war was over she entered into a trade and rate war with us. That war is going on now and it is evident she intends, if possible, to compel our merchant marine as a world carrying merchant marine to leave the high seas.

"And yet today Great Britain is withholding from us two hundred million dollars she owes us on her debt to us. She has debarred us like all foreigners, from owning or operating oil producing properties in the British Isles, colonies and protectorates. She controls tremendous oil fields in Persia and will not permit Americans to purchase oil lands. Since the armistice she has denied to American vessels the right to obtain oil from British stations."

HARDING'S SECRETARY GREETED BY CAPITAL OFFICIALS AND OTHERS

(United Press.)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 25.—Washington officials and newspaper men today were greeting George Christian as the next White House secretary. Christian's visit here and his call at the White House convinced the Capitol that he is slated for appointment as Harding's secretary. Christian has been secretary to Harding during his six years in the Senate. No definite word of his selection has come from Senator Harding himself.

TUMULTY GETS ORDER

WASHINGTON, Dec. 25.—Joseph Tumulty, secretary to the President, today received a flat offer of fifty thousand dollars in cash for his signature to a contract giving a well known publisher exclusive rights to his story of the Wilson administration.

CLARA [illegible] GIVES [illegible] OF TWELVE [illegible]

(International News Service.)

ARDMORE, Okla., Dec. 25.—[illegible] tations of the law [illegible] Clara Smith Hamon into [illegible] noon when she was [illegible] on the charge of murdering Jake Hamon, multi-millionaire Oklahoma "empire builder" and oil magnate. Pleading "not guilty" to the charge, the woman, for whom an international search was staged and who was finally surrendered by newspaper men who found her, was released under $12,000 bail, for trial during the January term. Her arraignment was devoid of Christmas spirit, taken directly from her train to the office of Hal Cannon, rural justice of the peace, she was arraigned on the murder charge. Her attorneys, Mathers and Coakley, waived preliminary hearing and the justice immediately bound her over for the court. The party then hastened to the courthouse, where Circuit Judge Champion was awaiting them. The judge entered the courtroom just as the party arrived by another entrance. Formal "information" charging her with the murder of Hamon was then read while the woman listened attentively.

Pale but without visible emotion, the woman plead "not guilty," speaking in a clear tone. The prosecutor refused to accede to the bail request until after Mrs. Hamon had made deposition of the nature of defense she will offer at her trial. Deposition was produced at once, having evidently been prepared prior to her arrival in Ardmore. Four friends of the accused woman signed the bail of $12,000 fixed by Judge Champion.

Two signers were Max Westheimer and Wert Franklin, both multi-millionaire oil men and former friends of the dead Hamon. With the bail bond signed, Mrs. Hamon left the courthouse with her attorneys and her uncle, saying that she was going to the home of her sister, Mrs. James Walling, who lives at Wilson, 20 miles east of Ardmore. Deposition which attorneys for the defense submitted to the judge will not be made public until next week. County Attorney Brown declares it is composed along the line of the confession made to Sam Blair, Universal Service correspondent when he met the woman in Mexico.

CHRISTMAS DINNERS COST AT LEAST ONE HUNDRED MILLIONS

(United Press.)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 25.—The national Christmas dinner cost at least one hundred million dollars, it was estimated here today. Approximately seventy million pounds of turkey was served. Turkey averaged about 65 cents a pound throughout the United States. This item alone will run the cost up to approximately forty-five million. Cranberries, mince pies and other fixings account for the remainder.

LABOR MEET POSTPONED

(International News Service.)

LAWRENCE, Mass., Dec. 25.—At a meeting of nine thousand members here for the Amalgamated Textile Workers of the World to vote on the question of leaving that organization, adopting one big union plan or forming local unions, originally scheduled for this afternoon, was postponed until Sunday. Ben Legare, secretary of the central council of the Amalgamated, today denied reports that tomorrow's meeting is to be the forerunner of a plan to push government ownership of textile mills project at the council of labor conventions in Massachusetts next month. Legare said the one big union idea was being favored. Under this plan all unions in the city would join hands to stop curtailment in extile industry and also stop the twenty-two and one-half percent cut in wages. Legare claims mill officials have fallen down in not keeping the mills running full time.

[illegible] ... listener and went on as though talking to herself. "Mr. Hamon was engrossed deeply in politics in which he had been gradually working his way up. His indomitable ambition blinded him, and me too. The higher he went the more dangerous his position became. I didn't realize it then but I have had much time to think about last Christmas of what a Christmas this is for me."

CHICAGO CONTINUES ACTIVITY AGAINST GREAT CRIME WAVE

(International News Service.)

CHICAGO, Dec. 25.—Christmas brought no cessation of the drive against outlawry in Chicago. Over 150 suspected criminals are in cells today as the result of police activities during the past 12 hours. They will be compelled to remain in jail until Monday because no police court was held today and none will be held Sunday.

Strong Plea Made to Harding That He Speak at Conference Here While in State in Jan.

Director Robt. S. Holmes of the National Forum on Saturday received a letter from J. L. McBrien, director of the National School Extension department of the Bureau of Education, Washington, stating that the Washington press this week carried verified reports that President-elect Warren G. Harding and party would visit in Florida early in January aboard the house-boat of Senator Jos. S. Freylinghausen, of New Jersey, and that the party would board the yacht at St. Augustine, on the visit of the party to this state.

Mr. McBrien enclosed a letter which he had written Senator Freylinghausen and Senator Harding, strongly urging the president-elect to address the Federal Conference on Education at the Auditorium on the peninsula, January 20 to 24, and also urge Mr. Holmes to have Governor-elect Hardee and the two Florida U. S. senators to bring pressure to bear on Senator Freylinghausen to see that Mr. Harding would appear on the local platform in January.

Senator Freylinghausen, who is a director of Rutgers college, and instrumental in educational improvements of New Jersey, will also be requested to speak at that time.

There is every possibility that President-elect Harding will accept the invitation extended by state and national officials, the officials of the National Forum and secretaries of Chambers of Commerce to speak here in January, while in the state as the guest of Senator Freylinghausen.

DEBS RECEIVED NO PARDON FROM WILSON AS DID FEW OTHERS

(International News Service)

ATLANTA, Dec. 25.—Eugene Debs, although in the federal prison, received over 50 presents and several thousand letters and cards from every part of the country today. A large party of Atlanta Socialists and friends of the former candidate for the presidency, visited him Christmas afternoon.

Clarence Brown, an Indian, known as "Big Chief," who thirteen years ago was given a life term for murder at Ardmore, Okla., was pardoned, eating his Christmas dinner outside the prison walls. He is 33.

A. L. Saunders, a negro, was also released through presidential clemency.

SECOND FIRE IN TWO DAYS IN THE ATLANTA BUSINESS DISTRICT

ATLANTA, Dec. 25.—Nunnally candy, Ballard Optical and Dahl Floral stores on Peachtree street, directly across from the Piedmont hotel, burned today. The loss is estimated at $200,000. Great volumes of smoke roiled into the Piedmont, causing much discomfort to Christmas guests.

CONTROVERSY OVER SECRET TREATIES IS WAXING WARM

(International News Service.)

WASHINGTON Dec. 25.—The controversy over secret treaties entered into by the allies in March, 1917, disposing of Shantung, took a sharp turn tonight. A. J. Balfour, who headed the British mission to the United States in the spring of 1917, has issued a statement declaring that "he had no secrets from the President" when he visited this country. This statement was made, replying to a cablegram from William Denman, former chairman of the United States shipping board, inquiring of Balfour whether he would make a statement as to whether he had concealed treaties from President Wilson.

In face of the denial from Balfour, Denman tonight issued a statement declaring that in May, 1917, Balfour "had a conference with the President, Secretary Lansing and Denman, who required disclosure of these treaties." Immediately after making this statement Denman declared that the "President, in reply to a question by Senator Johnson, in August, 1919, said he had first heard of these secret treaties over a year after Balfour left America. Denman declared "Secretary Lansing announced in the press that he had not heard of them until the Brest-Litovsk disclosures of treaties by the Bolsheviki months after Balfour's departure."

THOUSANDS [illegible]

(International News Service.)

MARION, Dec. 25.—The [illegible] Christmas had no difficulty [illegible] getting past the secret [illegible] who guard President-elect Harding at his home here. Thousands of fellow-countrymen wished the president a merry Christmas and Senator Harding answered by wishing peace, happiness and prosperity to all the world.

In his message of Yuletide greetings, Senator Harding said: "I wish every normal human being, I wish everybody a merry Christmas. It gets us out of a rut to join in the national chorus of peace and good-will. There is peace; there is confidence in the morrow. There is even [illegible] in the belief that the distress of the day is quickly to pass and that we may hope for as well as wish for a prosperous New Year."

Senator Harding and his wife attended services at the Baptist church and spent the remainder of the day reading hundreds of messages of confidence and greeting which reached them.

"Jimmy" Sloan, guardian of two previous presidents who handled the Christmas mail and telegrams, is confident that illiteracy is disappearing in America, as "most of them can and do write," said he.

TO DO HIS BEST

By Dr. James I. Vance

Why was man given the ability he has? He possesses a genius for his task. His fingers seem to have been made for just that kind of work. His brain seems to throw off thought for just such activity. His mental reactions are swift and accurate. He seems to have been built to do the thing he is doing.

Why? Was it accidental or intentional? Is the man thus equipped for his work in order that he may use 50 per cent of his ability, and let the other 50 per cent go to waste?

You would not erect a hundred horse-power engine to run a ten-horse-power machine.

The plan is not for all men to do the same amount of work, but for each man to do his best.

If God expects a hundred per cent man to do only a fifty per cent job, why did He not make him a fifty per cent man? Why build a ten-talent personality to fill a one-talent personality's place?

Yet much of modern industry is conducted on this basis.

The best way to help a weak man is not to make yourself half a man. Two horses are hitched to the same wagon. One is a powerful beast, the other spavined. The strong horse will best help his mate, not by reducing his haul to the capacity of a spavined horse, but by pulling all the load he can.

It is so in life. Don't be afraid you will work yourself out of a job. There is too much to be done. The skilled man who declines to use his powers will find that they atrophy. There is a worse penalty for inefficiency than a reduced wage.

We must do our best with what we have and make the most of what we are.

Instead of whining over circumstances, complaining of hard luck, clamoring for a chance, just "do with your might whatsoever your hands find to do."

Many Speakers of Note Will Be Heard on the Open Forum Program at the Auditorium

Secretary R. S. Holmes of the National Open Forum, announces that he now has all of the talent engaged for the Sunday afternoon events for the season opening at 2 o'clock on January 2nd at the Auditorium and closing on Sunday afternoon, March 27, with one exception.

For Sunday afternoon, February 6th, Dr. John Haynes Holmes, the world-famous thinker and orator, has been invited and its confidently hoped he will be here but his acceptance has not yet been received. The program so far as is completed follows:

January 2. Father John A. Ryan, Catholic University, Washington. Famous for his debate against Socialism with Morris Hilquitt in Everybody's magazine. Topic, "Industrial Democracy versus Industrial Autocracy."

January 9. Dr. Samuel Zane Batten, Philadelphia, chairman of the Social Service Commission of Federated Church Movement. Topic, "Can We Solve the Industrial Problem Without Revolution?"

January 16. Dr. Herbert Adams Gibbons, Princeton, N. J., the historian. Greatly stirred Chautauqua last summer with his fascinating and comprehensive lectures on Europe. Topic, "The New American Foreign Policy."

January 23. Dr. Henry E. Jackson, president of the National Community Board, for years with the National Bureau of Education. Topic, "Training for Citizenship."

January 30. Dr. John R. Mott, international secretary of the Y. M. C. A. Member of the Federal Commission to Russia. The great Christian statesman. Topic, "Impressions and Experiences from My Recent Trip to Europe."

February 6. Speaker of national reputation invited. Announcement later.

February 13. Dr. Charles Upson Clark, formerly of American Academy on Rome, also recently on Yale faculty. He was with the Italian armies as a writer. Topic, "The Last Word from Italy."

March 6. Senator James E. Watson, of Indiana. One of the outstanding orators of the Senate, will speak on "National Problems."

March 13. Dr. Toyokichi Iyennaga, formerly secretary of Japan's department of foreign affairs. Topic, "The Japanese Question, or Is There a Yellow Peril." The speaker will come with the approval of the Japanese ambassador.

March 20. Rabbi Emanuel Sternheim, Chicago. Author, lecturer, clergyman and sociologist, comes to present a most interesting topic, "The Reconstruction of Religion for Humanity."

March 27. Closing meeting of the season. Dr. Edward T. DeVine, New York. Associate editor of The Survey, lecturer, author and reformer. Topic, "Our Foreign Obligations."

Mrs. L. D. Merrill arrived from Winston-Salem, N. C., Thursday to join her husband, Lieut. L. D. Merrill, the aviator at the Dixie hotel for the holidays.

PEOPLE PAY RECORD PRICES FOR RAISINS

(Newspaper Enterprise Association.)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 25—Mankind, it seems, is always willing to pay a high price for forbidden fruit.

For that reason, national prohibition, instead of bringing bankruptcy to the wine grape growers of California, has brought them prosperity they had never dreamed of.

A bill providing for purchase by Uncle Sam of two California vineyard tracts which he has now under lease, for experimenting in wine grape culture, developes that wine grapes that used to sell from $15 to $20 a ton brought their growers this year as high as $100 a ton.

Congressman Charles F. Curry of Sacramento explained that recent high prices have been due to the competition of folks down east to secure grapes with which to make wine in their homes.

Homer Snyder of Little Falls, N. Y., who describes himself as "about as wet as any man in congress," inquires is it proper for congress to permit California to turn from wine grapes to raisin grapes?

REPUBLICANS DEFER COLLECTION UNTIL JUNE 15

(Newspaper Enterprise Association.)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 25—Postponement until June 15 of federal tax payments due March 15 is being considered as a feature of the Republican's emergency tax program. It's the intention of leaders in congress to bring it forward at "the psychological moment."

MANY FINE VIEWS OF PEABODY ESTATE SHOWN

Thursday evening the people of Daytona Beach and Seabreeze were given a treat by their beloved and popular townsman, S. J. Peabody.

Mr. Peabody invited the entire community to come to the auditorium on that evening to witness the "trying out" of the new moving picture machine recently given by his friend, George F. Johnson, for use in the big auditorium. The pictures shown were of much more than the usual interest. One film showed the big lumber operations and saw mills in Columbia City, Ind., belonging to Mr. Peabody. There were fine pictures of himself and pictures of other men interested with him in running the big plant; pictures of the working crews; of the big timber standing and following it until it finally reached the saw mill and was there reduced to boards.

There were some fine views of Mr. Peabody's home in Columbia City and of his farm near there. The farm picture showed Mr. Peabody at his best, entertaining his friends to the numberof a hundred or so.

Another film showed views of his Daytona Beach home on Halifax avenue and the beauty of this scene with its magnificent trees and wonderful view of that grandest of rivers, the Halifax, brought many exclamations of wonder. The picture was taken at the close of the clock golf tournament, when Mr. Peabody was entertaining many of his friends. This picture was especially enjoyed by those in the gathering who recognized themselves or their friends in the "movie." Among the well known people recognized was Dr. Sol Dickey, whose sudden death in DeLand occurred Wednesday evening.

Every appearance of Mr. Peabody's picture on the screen brought a round of hearty applause for everyone realizes the great benefit he is to the two popular beach cities. All were interested in seeing the big business enterprise that has engaged his time and attention during the years and realized that a man who could achieve so pronounced a success in the world's work was just the kind of a man who would bring enthusiasm, success and popularity to the towns he has chosen to make his home during a large part of the year.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Wood arrived yesterday from Bourbon, Ind., and are settled for the winter at 126 Coates street. They have been here often before and received a very cordial reception upon their arrival. Mr. Wood is a crack croquet player and his coming has been anxiously awaited by several who want him for a partner.

PERSONAL LOCALS

Mr. and Mrs. Carlisle Hault and two sons, who live in the Honey Suckle cottage, have gone to McIntosh by auto to spend Christmas with their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Brown.

Mrs. Lillian Ditto, of Lexington, Ky., arrived in Daytona Beach Friday to spend the holidays with her mother, Mrs. Anna Macey Griffith, and her aunt, Mrs. Uriah Hambrich, of Hollywood avenue.

Edward Parr, of Sammit, New Jersey, arrived Friday to enter the new aviation school of Messrs. Stanton and Lindley. Mr. Parr is a progressive appearing young man and says he intends to make flying his life's work.

The dedication of the new moving picture machine at the Auditorium Christmas afternoon and evening and the official opening eexrcises of the peninsula entertainment building was a great success in every way. The building was filled with little tots during the afternoon program, who were the guests of Mr. Peabody and committee, while in the evening huge crowds enjoyed the motion pictures, and the exercises, augering well for the success of the program to be given at the Auditorium this winter.

Carl Koester, leader of the orchestra at the Daytona Beach Casino, is planning for a real holiday festival at that popular resort. He has gone to much trouble and expense to appropriately decorate the dancing pavilion and the old friends hardly knew it when they reached there for the Christmas dance last evening. All of the lights have oriental shades and included in the unique decorations were imitations of birds, fish, reptiles and all kinds of animal life in paper. Mr. Koester is giving the people high class entertainment with very pleasant surroundings.

Flying a Canadian-Curtis airplane, Lieut. Stuart J. Davies arrived at the Beach Friday evening, after a 1,500 mile trip by air from Utica, N. Y., with credentials for Secretary S. B. Crosby of the Daytona Chamber of Commerce and the Beach Chamber of Commerce. Lieut. Davies represents the Utica body and is an earnest advertiser for that city as a summer resort and as a commercial center. Lieut. Davies may decide to locate for the winter at the local beach, making flights on a commercial basis. He has made many friends during the several days he has been here, and bids fair to become popular with those desiring to make airplane flights during the winter.

RESIGNATION OF COMPTROLLER AND JUDGES

(Newspaper Enterprise Association.)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 25.—Shakeups and appointments occupy Washington. Today's dope:

Democratic

Secretary of the Treasury Houston and Comptroller of Currency Williams are at loggerheads. Williams' friends are urging him to resign and accompany his resignation with a denunciation of the policies pursued by the treasury department.

Republican

Justice McKenna of the Supreme Court, will resign, to be followed by Chief Justice White. Who'll get their jobs? None other than Taft and Hughes. But the dopesters haven't quite decided whether Taft or Hughes will be chief justice.

[illegible] changed to the Rahe Auto and Flying School [illegible] be interested [illegible] the management [illegible] Stanton's [illegible] the Rahe company has already [illegible] considerable [illegible] Daytona Beach [illegible] and that [illegible] much [illegible] throughout the world [illegible] landing ground for an airplane [illegible] found anywhere. As it is too cold to continue the aviation school in Kansas City during the winter its headquarters will be here in winter and there in the summer. For this reason Messrs. Stanton and Lindley expect to alternate between the two locations, as they intend to make the teaching of flying their permanent business.

"Today there is no more danger in riding in an airplane than in an automobile," said Mr. Lindley. "They are so strong and so easily handled that there is no longer any danger to speak of and especially where we have good landing places. There has been very little improvement in the building of airplanes since the war. They were practically perfected at that time. There is no doubt but this mode of transportation will constantly grow in popularity and that within a few years it will cut an important figure in the commerce of the world."

Messrs. Lindley and Stanton have with them two machines made especially for training purposes. These carry but one extra passenger each but they have a three passenger car in Kansas City which they will have sent here if they need it in their business this winter.

In speaking of their trip here Mr. Lindley said they never before experienced such unfavorable weather. "It took us about two hours," he said, "to fly frm Durand, Okla., to Dennison, Tex., a distance of only twenty miles, and everything about the machines working finely. After we reached Galveston, and had larger gas tanks put in we would have been able to better contend with the heavy winds had we not had more bad luck by having our tank damaged."

From the Galveston (Texas) News the following self-explanatory item is taken:

"Two boys about 16 years of age were apprehended yesterday following the damaging of two airplanes on East beach in the afternoon. Arrests were made by Sergeant S. Spencer on a warrant sworn to to by William Lindley, one of the aviators in charge of the planes, which were reported to be enroute to Florida for the winter. According to allegation made to the police officers all the tanks of both planes were punctured by shots fired from a 22 caliber target rifle. One shot went through the fuselage of one of the planes and another indented the gasoline tank to such an extent that it made flying unsafe.

"The boys were released last night and ordered to appear in juvenile court this morning for a preliminary hearing."

Messrs. Stanton and Lindley hurriedly unloaded their machines from the cars Friday and yesterday were giving fine exhibitions of their flying prowess. Both these young men have many friends here who are giving them a very cordial welcome home.

Several prospective students in aviation are alrady here waiting to take flying lessons from them.

[illegible] Millions in [illegible] Europe Will Starve [illegible] Aid is Sent to Them

[illegible] SIMMONS, Editor [illegible] according to re[illegible] Hoover, [illegible] starve this win[illegible] America succors them.

Gaunt, distorted bodies of these help[illegible] less little ones appeal to every in[illegible]stinct of humanity. Shall we let them starve? Shall we shut our ears to their cries for help? Shall we refuse to see the bony hands outstretched to us for help? Shall we wrap ourselves in smug complacency and leave to others the fulfilling of our duty? Or shall we put ourselves in the place of the mothers and fathers of these starving children and think of the agony we would suffer? Shall we think of what it would mean to see our own loved ones dying of starvation and none to help? May God forbid that we shall be lukewarm in such an hour of world agony.

Beyond all power of words to describe is the situation in China. The reports which come from many sources all unite in the one appalling fact that from 20,000,000 to 30,000,000 people will inevitably starve to death this winter. That is so appalling that human mind cannot grasp its meaning. It tells a tale of woe and suffering surpassing in detail and in aggregate the horrors of the war. Chinese papers report it as one of the greatest catastrophes that has ever visited the world.

The Literary Digest in its issue of December 11th has gathered together many facts in regard to the actual situation, and it reports that throughout a wide territory in the stricken area whole families are everywhere drowning themselves because of the horrors of the famine. For nearly two years no rain fell over a wide area of the most densely populated part of China, and in that country of dense population lacking transportation facilities even a famine in one [illegible]

[illegible] of one of its most [illegible] by the action of the League of Nations. We [illegible] all of our [illegible] relations with China by that act. Today it is possible for America to redeem itself in the eyes of the Chinese people and in some extent to atone for our great blunder in consenting to the control of Shantung by Japan.

The call of humanity to save these millions in China and Europe is a call to the Christianity of the American people. Do we practice what we profess? Are we ready to give to the utmost limit of our power to save from death millions and tens of millions of people in China and in Europe? Rightly, we have raised millions for sending missionaries abroad, but the missionary today who would do more to awaken the world to the reality of the religion which America professes would be food to feed the body. It is true that man cannot live by bread alone, but man must have bread ere he can accept the teachings of the Divine Healer of the world's sufferings. The first petition in the prayer taught by Christ Himself to the world was: Give us this day our daily bread.

It was right that our country should send one of its great warships to the rescue of one man, but shall we as a nation fail to send out all the power of this country to rescue the millions and tens of millions of starving women and children? Here is an appeal to the humanity of this country as great as has ever touched the heart of our nation. It is doubly important that we should hear the call. First it is a call of duty, a call of God to sacrifice and to serve that we may save, and, secondly, it would do us as a nation infinite good if we could concentrate our thought upon saving others from the fearful disaster by making us forget some of our difficulties and loss. We are prone to centralize our thought upon our own little affairs. We are worrying ourselves when the mighty call from Europe and Asia if heeded by us would broaden our prosperity. In seeking to save others we would stimulate our thought into larger things for our country. Here is a call so vastly greater than the imaginary call to the League of Nations as to make even the most ardent advocate of the league think of how little importance that is in its visionary dream of world peace without Christ as compared with this reality of suffering and death. Perhaps it was for this hour that God in his omnipotent wisdom gave to this country its abundant supply of farm products this year. Perhaps he saw that the time had come to test America's genuineness in its professions and that he gave us such crops as never before harvested in order that he might see if America would use this abundant supply of foodstuffs to feed these dying people.

In every home and in every pulpit, and in every office and place of business the call for help should be heeded with a largeness and a bountifulness which would prove to the world that there is a reality in the Christianity which the people of this country profess to follow. The call is to you individually. Every blessing you enjoy, every comfort you have, every advantage of living in this Heaven favored land calls to you to give that you may succor and save. What will your answer be?

It is estimated that the United States originally possesses 850,000,000 acres of timberland, of which only about 545,000,000 acres remain.

A hundred years ago, lumbering in the United States was confined to small sawmills on the coast and river courses of the east.

CHRISTMAS MORNING

A gift of a home site in Schulte Park was the most sensible present imaginable; one that will bring independence and lasting happiness for many years. A deed to a lot in Schulte Park is the best kind of a local real estate investment, a highly residential subdivision extending from the beautiful Halifax to the rolling ocean.

As house rents grow higher and higher and choice home locations grow scarcer and difficult to find, the owner of a home site in Schulte Park will grow happier and richer through his wise investment. Schulte Park will have the widest and most carefully planned boulevards and streets in Florida, and its people will be those with whom you and your family will be proud to mingle. We shall be glad to sell or rent you property in any part of Daytona, Daytona Beach or Seabreeze.

[illegible] the complete success of this [illegible]

The singing of Christmas Carols was one of the most delightful [illegible] ever given under the auspices of the Camp Fire Girls.

[illegible] and fruit cake [illegible]

It was also a [illegible] Christmas [illegible] generally speaking. A few [illegible] around with breaths which [illegible] they [illegible] laid a foundation of Christmas [illegible] which is guaranteed to absorb [illegible] merriment. Yes, it was a joyous Christmas and now everyone is preparing to wish their friends a Happy New Year.

Local Manager A. L. Conn of the Western Union and Mrs. Conn delightfully entertained the force of the Western Union at their apartments on South Palmetto avenue Christmas night, those enjoying the hospitality of the Conns being: Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Evans, Miss Ruby Seville, Miss Effie Roberts, Miss M. Connelly and A. G. Vargo. The evening was pleasantly spent in the enjoyment of a real Christmas celebration.

Chris Arnold [illegible] quite seriously hurt in a [illegible] on South Beach street several days ago [illegible] W. H. Taylor [illegible] an artery [illegible] collision between a Ford driven by [illegible] W. Shaw, electrician [illegible] riding at the time, and a [illegible] by Miss Nitet Mary McClellan. [illegible] was thrown against the wind shield, which broke, the glass badly cutting his hand.

When Shopping Is Dangerous

The lure of low prices may lead to dangerous consequences when you buy medicines.

For you must remember that all drugs are not of standard strength and potency. Therefore, the shopping habit is most unwise if applied to your prescriptions.

We use only pure, best quality drugs of known strength. We charge a fair price for our prescription service.
